The soft pastel pencil is a medium made from pigment and soft binding agents, such as calcium carbonate, encased in wood. This creates a vivid, blendable color that is slightly harder than traditional pastels making them ideal for detail work. Artwork created with soft pastel pencils is extremely fragile and often requires a finishing fixative to prevent the unwanted spread of the fine pigment particles. However, soft pastel paintings truly stand the test of time because they are made with a higher concentration of pure pigments than many other media, and thus maintain their brilliant quality.

Printed swatches may vary by monitor and printer, and may not be a true representation of the actual color.
